The representative is responsible to read those materials (they will include information on the motions that are to be voted upon) and, if possible, to discuss them with the service body they represent. The service body has the right to instruct its representative according to the way they should vote. However, as new information and amendments to the motions may appear during the Assembly, most service bodies allow their trusted representatives to make the final decision as to the voting during the Assembly itself.
(c)	Committee Participation
	The representatives are asked to consider participating in one of the Region 9 committees. Committee meetings take place during the Assembly, but often require members to work for the committee throughout the year. (2017)

(f)	Reporting back to the Service Body.
	The representative reports the matters discussed by the Assembly back to their service body including the Assembly workshops, and ideas and goals for the future. The form of this report is up to the representative and their service body. Many representatives prepare written reports and present them during workshops.
(g)	Hand your service to the next representative.
